Vote on Tuesday Holck's Wit Strike Kills Game

What the pollsters say about Tuesday's presidential election doesn't relieve any American citizen of his personal obligation to vote.

The term "democracy" is worn threadbare in some of the underdeveloped countries where armed men patrol the polling places and the helpless citizen has the bitter choice of voting "right" or risking bodily harm.

Not so in our United States, thanks to our founding fathers and succeeding generations who have zealously guarded personal freedom even to this day when around the world liberty is somewhat scarcer than it was yesterday.

A presidential election comes around but once in four years. Make the most of it—and vote.

The editor has made his choice, but the election belongs to the people. In the news columns we have presented months of argument from all sides, as is the duty of every fair-minded newspaper. Only in the editorial column is there an opinion, for whatever it is worth—

STAR BALLOT
In the general election Tuesday, Nov. 7, The Star's editorial stand is this:

For President and Vice-President—

Richard M. Nixon and Spiro Agnew
Democratic the rest of the way

FOR Act 1—to repeal Arkansas' railroad full-crow law.

You've heard it on the air, and have doubtless seen it in print before now, but just for the local record I am repeating what J. N. Holck, board chairman and editor of the Arkansas Gazette, said on his 100th birthday party in Little Rock Thursday, Nov. 2, 1972: "If I'd known I was going to live this long I'd have taken better care of myself."

The cameramen and technicians struck the Columbia Broadcasting system last week and one of the casualties was the Dallas Cowboys' football game at San Diego Sunday, which telecast, scheduled for 3 p.m., was cancelled. Press reports Saturday said CBS expected to make arrangements outside its own facilities to carry the game—but they didn't materialize—as I and a lot of other local followers of the Cowboys found out at 3 Sunday.

The football failure was irritating, but far more serious is the threat the CBS strike poses to adequate coverage of the national election Tuesday night. Of course there are NBC and ABC—but the stoppage of any one of "the big three" is likely to cripple communications in some areas of the nation. CBS assures its viewers it will report the election as usual, with supervisors and executives manning the posts left vacant by the strikers. I hope they bring it off.

Nevertheless, a communications strike on the eve of a national election suggests something is wrong with our country's laws which are severe on companies but lenient on organized labor.

It would have been a popular gesture on the part of the unions had they announced that they would return to work for Election Night only. Lacking such an announcement they are inviting public opinion to advocate stricter regulation of labor where the national security is concerned—in which stands No. 1.

Peace talks on tap

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers predicts that secret peace talks with the North Vietnamese will resume in the near future, but that a final agreement on a Vietnam cease-fire probably is "several weeks" away.

The North Vietnamese chief negotiator, Xuan Thuy, said, meanwhile, that the Communists would agree to another "final" meeting if conditions are right. "The question is seriousness" on the part of the United States, he added.

While indications mounted that negotiations would soon be resumed, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird acknowledged that the United States is speeding up deliveries of military equipment to South Vietnam.

Laird said this would "enhance negotiations."

Rogers said Sunday that the United States has been in contact with the North Vietnamese through diplomatic channels, "and I have every reason to think that the negotiations in the private channels will resume in the near future."

He was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Rogers repeated past statements of the administration that the basic agreement has been reached. However, he said "one more series of meetings" is needed to resolve "some ambiguities" and mentioned three.

He said they included a definition of the role of a joint council to administer the cease-fire and supervise elections; the timetable for positioning of an international force to supervise the cease-fire, and the question of North Vietnamese troops remaining in the South.

Asked when final agreement is likely, Rogers said: "I think it would be several weeks. Whether it runs into more than that I am not sure." He added he has "no doubt, though, about the outcome."

The secretary of State also said he thinks it is unfair to consider South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu as the lone "villain" blocking the tentative agreement reached between the United States and the North Vietnamese in Paris Oct. 8.

Thuy said in an interview in Sunday's New York Times that if, in another meeting, "the U.S. agrees and then proposes more changes, it would be very difficult to settle things."

He claimed again that President Nixon had proposed signing a cease-fire agreement on Oct. 31 and then backed down.

The awe of history

An antique organ in the Old Tavern at Washington caught the attention of two young girls, Amy Hamilton, at left, and Tina Cole. The girls were members of a large group of elementary school children touring Washington Saturday. More than 600 children from various Little Rock elementary schools toured the historic town. Nixon sitting it out, McGovern charges

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon is sitting out the final day before the 1972 election in the seclusion of his Western White House at "Casa Pacifica"—House of Peace—saying one of his goals for America is a world without war.

His only planned campaigning was a taped statement to be used on a half-hour election-night television show put on by the Committee for the Re-election of the President. The White House said the five-minute statement would be televised at 10:55 p.m. EST on CBS and following the football game on ABC.

Nixon and wife Pat will vote early Tuesday at nearby Concordia Elementary School. Then, they will return to Washington to await election returns at the White House.

The windup was typical of Nixon's campaign, remarkably low-key for an incumbent president. He made few campaign trips and his last campaign rally—he called it "probably the best"—was staged Friday night in a specially built stadium at Ontario, Calif., International Airport before a huge crowd with flags flying, searchlights flashing in the sky, costumed bands blaring, and organized chanting of "four more years."

Though he referred to "all the emotion of the final week-end before an election," Nixon did not involve himself in any public activities.

He spent a quiet Sunday, getting to his Western White House office at 7 a.m. for meetings with chief domestic and foreign advisers John Ehrlichman and Henry A. Kissinger.

McGovern

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern, his eyes laden with fatigue, set out on one last span of the nation today before laying his two-year quest to "Bring America Home" in the hands of the electorate.

Braving brisk morning chill, McGovern went for a short, traffic-stopping stroll down Fifth Avenue, one arm raised in a wave of goodbye and the other extended to hundreds of well-wishers. "Thank you," he repeated time and again. "God bless you."

Then he boarded the Dakota Queen II to pay his farewells in Philadelphia, Wichita, Kan., and Long Beach, Calif., en route to a day of waiting in his native South Dakota.

"We're going to win," he told an interviewer before embarking on his coast-to-coast finale. "It is a kind of coming together on the part of the American public, a realization that there has been too much deception both here at home and now even in the issue of war and peace itself."

"The American people," he said, "were reluctant to think that their president was playing politics with the issue of war. Now, suddenly ... that is beginning to dawn on people."

In stops Sunday at St. Louis, Moline, Ill., and New York, McGovern drew some of the loudest cheers of his campaign as he accused President Nixon of playing "fast and loose" on the Vietnam issue.

In a nationwide television address from New York, McGovern characterized as "the big lie" the administration's claim that a peace settlement is near.

NEW YORK (AP) — The leader of North Vietnam's delegation at the Paris peace talks says his nation is ready to resume negotiations with the United States to conclude a peace agreement if Washington is "serious," the New York Times reports.

"At present, we are demanding that the Americans honor the agreement and sign," the official, Xuan Thuy, was quoted as saying in an interview in Paris. "But we do not have a rigid attitude about another meeting. The question is seriousness."

In the interview published in the newspaper's Sunday editions, Thuy said that another meeting would be a "final" session. He warned that if after the meeting "the U.S. agrees and then proposes more changes, it would be very difficult to settle things."

Henry Kissinger, the President's national security adviser and the chief U.S. negotiator, said, however, that one more meeting with Thuy's superior, Le Duc Tho, was necessary to clear up details on several points in the draft agreement.

The general terms of the agreement, as already made public, provide for a standstill cease-fire in South Vietnam, withdrawal of U.S. troops and the release of American prisoners. Elections for a new political structure for South Vietnam would be arranged by a constitutional assembly.

'Who're you calling chicken?'

A portion of a load of chicken coops with 8,600 chickens en route to Mt. Pleasant, Tex., were dumped alongside the 1000 block of Main St. early today when the trailer rig carrying the shipment was forced off the road by a bulldozer. The wheels of the rig hit the soft dirt by the road, which is under construction, and sank. The load on the vehicle shifted and about 30 per cent of the load flew off the truck. Several crates were smashed and chickens were freed. The driver of the truck said a bulldozer pulling out of a side street forced him off the roadway. The truck is owned by G&G, Inc. of Hope.

'Packaging' up the haul

A raid by city and county law enforcement officers Friday afternoon netted a sizable haul of illegal intoxicants. From left, James Simmons, Deputy sheriff, David Sultzer, and Richard Rowe, city policemen, "package" up a part of the confiscated supply of liquor. Seized in the raid were 56 quarts of beer, 67½ pints of gin, 12½ gallons of liquor, 27 cans of beer, and more than 20 pints of assorted liquor. Charlie Graham, 62, of N. Greening St. was arrested and charged with overpossession of intoxicants. He was freed on $2,500 bond.

Climer ends campaign in Hope

Jerry Climer, candidate for secretary of state, made a last minute campaign stop today in Hope.

Climer, who has predicted he will get 53-54 per cent of the vote in Tuesday's election, said he decided to close his campaign in the hometown of Kelly Bryant because "I want to ask the people of Hope to put the needs of Arkansas above their natural desire to support a man who used to live in your city".

Climer said the people of Hope should think about their heritage when they vote Tuesday.

McClanahan guest speaker tomorrow

Dr. John H. McClanahan, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pine Bluff will be the guest speaker for the annual Stewardship Banquet sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Hope. The banquet will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday night at the Fair Park Coliseum.

The covered-dish meal will feature special music by the church's youth choir. Mel Thrash will make the introductions and announcements, and Mrs. Jim Hart will sing a special — "Turn eyes upon Jesus."

Rev. T.H. King will give the meal-time prayer, and Rev. Gerald W. Trussell, pastor of the local church, will give the benediction.

M-Missing, T-Trace

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF AP Political Writer

Democratic challenger George McGovern sweeps from New York to Los Angeles today to climax his uphill presidential drive while President Nixon speaks from his San Clemente, Calif., home in an election-eve windup that typifies the 1972 campaign.

Democratic vice-presidential nominee Sargent Shriver also scheduled a long day of campaigning, from Pittsburgh to Beaumont, Tex., and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew planned last-day appearances in Philadelphia and Richmond, Va.

Independent polls continued to forecast a Nixon-Agnew landslide in Tuesday's balloting that is expected to draw a record total of more than 80 million to the nation's voting booths. Democrats remain favored to retain House and Senate control, plus a majority of governorships.

In a day that took him from St. Louis to Moline, Ill., to New York City Sunday, McGovern continued to accuse President Nixon of deceiving the nation about Vietnam peace prospects and said Nixon has been ruling the country like "a Roman emperor" without regard for congressional powers.

In a nationwide television speech from New York Sunday night, he said peace is not at hand, as claimed by the Nixon administration—"it is not even in sight." He said the remaining issues in the agreement to be worked out with Hanoi are the "central issues of the war. And Mr. Nixon knows it."

McGovern said the administration's "deception" about prospects for peace "is the ultimate utilization of the technique that has become known as 'the big lie.'"

Nixon, meanwhile, spent much of the day relaxing at his oceanfront San Clemente home while declaring in a paid radio speech that the choice in Tuesday's election "is clear-cut and momentous."

He said the balloting could be "one of our finest hours" and listed 10 goals, ranging from "a secure and prosperous America" to "a great and good America," which he said could be achieved "no matter who wins in the next two days."

Shriver, winding up an East Coast swing from New Hampshire to Baltimore, said the North Vietnamese now have confirmed the statement with which he started off the campaign—that Nixon "blew" a chance to end the war four years ago.

Agnew's only scheduled Sunday appearance was canceled when he, like McGovern, refused to cross picket lines by union technicians, for an appearance on CBS' "Face the Nation."

Two public-opinion pollsters said, meanwhile, that McGovern is closing some of the gap between himself and Nixon.

Daniel Yankelovich predicted Nixon will win by what he called "a little landslide" which he defined as between 55 per cent and the 61 per cent achieved by former President Lyndon B. Johnson against Barry Goldwater in 1964.

Louis Harris, declining to make a prediction of a landslide in what he called a "year of volatility," said McGovern might have a chance if Nixon dropped his low-key campaigning "and went out stumping in a different style ... slashing out at McGovern personally." He agreed this is unlikely.

The final pre-election Harris poll, released today, gave Nixon 59 per cent, McGovern 35 per cent, and 6 per cent undecided. That was four points better than McGovern did in a late-October Harris Survey.

Yankelovich said over Vietnam peace prospects was a factor in McGovern's apparent gain.

McGovern has maintained that the polls have failed to register his momentum and that pollsters would have "the reddest faces in the nation" after Tuesday.

When Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buclaw of Eldridge, Iowa, presented the senator with a puppy during an airport stop Sunday at Moline, Ill., McGovern named him "Upset" and his wife Eleanor declared "his new home will be the White House."

John B. Connally, head of Democrats for Nixon, said there won't be any upset. He said he expects 20 million Democrats to support Nixon.

Meanwhile, Rep. John

Schmitz, American party presidential nominee, predicted in Escondido, Calif., that the number of votes he receives Tuesday will shock the nation. "We're going to sober them up and hit them in the face with a dash of cold water," he said.

Schmitz says his party gives Americans a real choice because Democrats and Republicans hold similar totalitarian socialist tendencies.

With the polls predicting a GOP presidential victory, most of Nixon's campaigning in the past few days has been directed toward the Republican effort to pick up the five-seat gain needed to win control of the Senate for the first time since 1955.

Of the 33 seats being contested Tuesday, 19 are held by the Republicans, 14 by the Democrats.

3 U.S. copters downed

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces shot down three U.S. helicopters within 14 miles of Da Nang Sunday, killing two Americans and wounding three, the U.S. Command announced today. An Army AH1 Cobra gunship was hit by small arms fire and crashed in flames 14 miles south of Da Nang, killing one crewman and wounding the second. An OH6 light observation helicopter was shot down as it attempted to recover the casualties, and one of its crew was wounded. A second OH6 then went in and picked up the dead and wounded, and a relief pilot flew out the damaged OH6. The Cobra gunship was destroyed.

About eight hours later, another OH6 was shot down by small arms fire six miles to the north. The U.S. Command said one crewman was killed, the second was wounded and the helicopter was destroyed. The losses raised to 8,488 the total number of U.S. aircraft reported lost to all causes in the war. This includes 4,851 helicopters.

U.S. B52 bombers swept to within 56 miles of the 20th parallel today in their deepest raids against North Vietnam since the resumption of full-scale bombing last April.

Supreme Court to review law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today agreed to review a New York law that provided $28 million a year in state funds for parochial schools until it was declared unconstitutional.

The justices acted on appeals from the ruling by a three-judge panel in New York City last April. The case will be heard early next year and a final decision announced by the end of June 1973.

Appeals had been filed by Arthur Levitt, the state comptroller; Ewald B. Nyquist, the commissioner of education; Earl Brydges, majority leader of the state Senate; and three Roman Catholic and two Jewish parochial schools.

The 1970 Mandated Service Act allocated direct payments to parochial and other private schools to reimburse them for administering examinations, maintaining attendance records and making other reports required of the schools by the state.

The past two years, Arkansans have made a lot of progress. Our economy is sound, we have improved our prisons, parks, reorganized government to cut out the fat, initiated new programs for pollution control, provided increased educational benefits, begun a comprehensive drug abuse program to control crime, started a community approach to solve mental retardation and illness, created more new jobs than ever in the same period of time, increased the per capita income and begun efforts to develop a complete family practice division of the University of Arkansas Medical Center to provide doctors for our small communities.

Dale Bumpers has worked hard for Arkansans and the results are showing up, in benefits to the people. Let's keep moving ahead.

County Extension Homemakers meet

The Hempstead County Extension Homemakers board of directors met on Friday, Nov. 3, at 2:00 p.m. in the Douglas Building. Sixteen members were present, with Dolores McBride, Hempstead County extension home economist and Mrs. Alphonso Denham Associate extension home economist.

The meeting was presided over by their president, Mrs. Lyle Allen. Proposed changes in the council's by-laws were reviewed and will be familiarized for thirty days before accepted. The budget for the year was presented and approved. A $100.00 4-H Scholarship will be given again this year.

Wednesday, Dec. 6, at 1:30 p.m. was selected to be the date of the annual Christmas party, to be held at the Douglas Building. Gifts will be brought for the Children's Home in Arkadelphia. The club that has acquired the most new members for the year, will be presented with five dollars.

The meeting was closed and coffee and cookies were served to all present.

Mrs. Alford hosts homemakers club

The Victory Extension Homemakers Club met Wednesday, November 1 in the home of Mrs. Dexter Alford. The president, Mrs. Cecil Smith, called the meeting to order, and the roll call was answered by "My suggestion for safeguard measures for protection."

The hostess chose the 23rd Psalm for the devotion. "Mingle Girls" and "Glory Hallelujah" were sung by the group. The lesson was "Lady Beware," and Mrs. Avery McKinney, Mrs. Cecil Smith, and Mrs. Kenneth Petre demonstrated what they were taught by Sgt. Ray Davis of the Arkansas State Police at a meeting the previous week at the Hempstead County courthouse.

To close the meeting the 12 members present repeated the Homemakers prayer. The hostess served doughnuts, brownies, nuts, and coffee or cold drinks. Mrs. Robert Cash won the thrift prize.

The Christmas meeting will be December 14 in the home of Mrs. C.J. Rowe with a potluck meal at noon and an exchange of gifts in the afternoon.

ASTRO-GRAPH

BY BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Monday, November 6, 1972

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19): Don't be so tense about changes you're contemplating. If it benefits your reputation, it's worthwhile.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Tempers could flare due to a conflict of interests. Make your point without using harsh words.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): If you take your work too seriously today it's bound to distress you. Ease tensions with periodic breaks.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Someone with whom you share social interest could show they have more depth than suspected, thus re-awakening your feelings.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Speak softly. Don't carry a big stick in family, domestic relationships. It would take little to start a rumble.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22): A change you've considered may require immediate attention. If moves are well thought-out, get going.

You'll fare better this year if you rely more upon yourself. New strengths, insights work for you. Stronger drives promise rewarding personal achievements.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23): You may be asked to make an unexpected expenditure. Although it annoys you now, it has some hidden advantages.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22): Be your own person. Do things the way you feel they should be done. Your instincts are sharp, accurate.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21): A little undercover work may be needed to dig out the facts. Surface values are deceiving.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19): Aided by friends, important changes can now be made. Something you've deeply longed for is getting closer.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19): It's not wise to apply too much pressure to get recognition for your efforts. Others will harbor resentment.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20): Your thoughts are very powerful. Others can almost sense what you're thinking. Use ideas constructively.

Special guests

Senior citizens from El Dorado and other towns in southwest Arkansas were special guests recently of Hope's Golden Age Club. More than 80 persons attended the all day meeting at the Douglas Building. Dolores McBride, at right, extension home economist, addressed the group and explained some of the many ways to make Christmas decorations.

Same Music, Different Lyrics
DEAR HELEN:

I've written several times, but have never seen a reply in the paper. Then you suspected a boy with a similar problem of hoarding you, so perhaps you think I'm a hoarder too. Please answer.

I'm a married businessman and well thought of locally. It all started when my wife kidded me about being a maid because I helped with the dishes. One thing led to another and she made me up like a woman, with her clothes, wig, cosmetics, etc. It was all in fun, but somehow it got to be a habit.

Through the years, she has bought women's clothes for me and these are what I relax in at home. (My whole personality changes when I'm in feminine attire.)

They were so comfortable that I began wearing women's clothing when I went out-of-town on business trips. After the day's work was done, I'd doll up "female," and walk around town. Sometimes I'd strike up a conversation with another woman but never with a man. I am NOT homosexual.

Well, my wife found out. She discovered my women's clothes in my suitcase, and now she wants to divorce me as she says I'm twisted.

If she enjoyed my charade at home, why then does she think I'm crazy when I carry it on outside—where no one will know? Does she really like the idea of a woman companion, but wants to keep it secret?—

S.S.P.

DEAR S.:
You're in a question for a close-in counselor; that is why I have avoided using it in the column. A fetish can best be treated by a psychiatrist, and that goes double if your wife also shares the aberration...or perhaps you two are completely right for each other, who knows?

One thing comes on strong, however, in all my letters from part-time or beginning transvestites: they always blame their first cross-over on a member of the opposite sex—sister, wife, girlfriend, mother—after which they either "just can't help themselves" or else they're still being "forced against their will."

If your preference for women's clothes threatens to blight your life, S.S.P., then I'd suggest first, honest self-appraisal (stop blaming your wife—she isn't the cause of your "split personality," though she may have encouraged it); and second, therapy.

Where therapy will lead, I don't know, but I can't help you long-distance. Sorry!—H.

This column is dedicated to family living so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Write to Helen Bottel care of this newspaper.

Bobcats end season

By ALAN FOSTER
Star Sports Writer

Last Friday night at Nashville, The Hope Bobcats ended their 1972 season with a 8-2 mark as they completely humiliated the Nashville Scrappers by a score of 48 to 0.

The first quarter ended scoreless even after Nashville recovered a Bobcat fumble on the opening kickoff. They were unable to move and were stopped by a tough Bobcat defense on a fumble recovery on the Bobcat nine yd. line.

Hope drew first blood on a 10 yd. run by David Johnson. The PAT by Paul Bazar was good and Hope led 7-0.

Then on a third and eight play, the cats were on the board again on a 39 yd. touchdown play from Robie Boyd to Buddy Ingram. Hope faked the kick and Boyd tossed to David Huddleston for the two points.

On Hope's very next series, the Cats rolled over the Scrapper defense once again as they went 27 yds. in 10 plays after David Johnson ran back the punt 49 yards to the Nashville 27. Johnson scored the TD on a 19 yard hop. PAT was good and hope had a 22-0 lead.

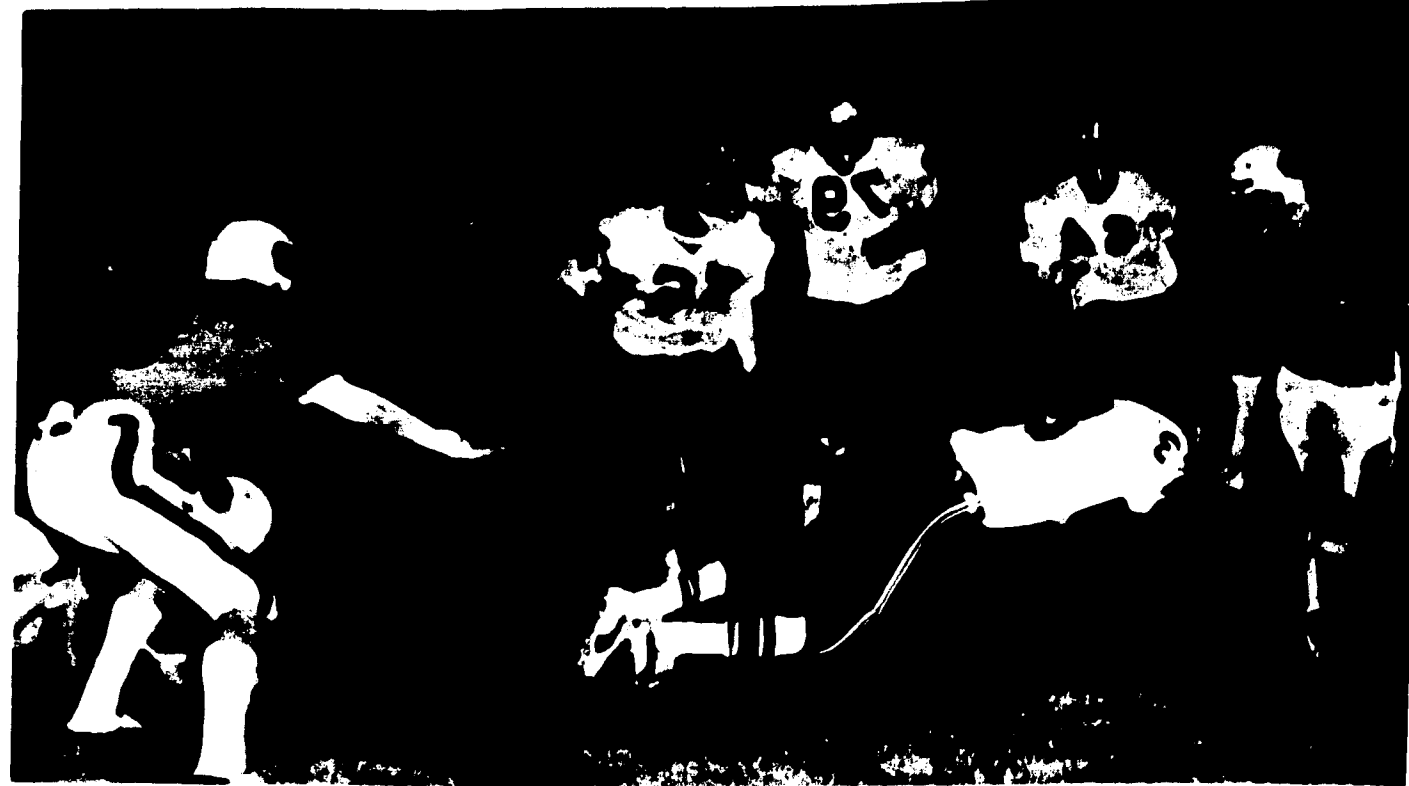

On the last play of the first half defensive lineman Paul Bazar picked up a Scrapper fumble and ran it in from the 40. PAT was no good and Hope took a 28-0 margin into the locker room at the half.

On the second half kickoff Melvin Weston ran it all the way 70 yds to give the Cats a 36-0 lead after a successful PAT by Bazar.

Hope kicked off to Nashville and picked up a Scrapper bobble on the 6. Then Melvin Weston ran it over to give the Cats their third touchdown in less than 40 seconds. PAT was good and Hope led 42-0.

Then with 2:25 left in the game running back Eddie Rickey Brown galloped 79 yards with no trouble to give the Cats their last TD of the year as they stomped Nashville 48-0.

Special recognition should be given to head coach Gaylord Solomon and his staff for a more successful season than most people ever dreamed possible. The real credit should be given to a determined group called the Hope Bobcats.

Latest Aggie Joke is on the Razorbacks

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The latest Aggie joke is on Arkansas.

The way the story goes there was this quarterback two months earlier who was being mentioned as a Heisman Trophy candidate. Well, this quarterback goes to College Station and six of his pames are intercepted by the Aggies.

Joe Ferguson and his Arkansas teammates may not appreciate the joke but that's what happened to Ferguson Saturday in Aggieland.

Texas A&M, 1-6 before Saturday, knocked off the Razorbacks for the second straight year, 10-7.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said the Razorbacks' defense "played well enough to win, but offensively we just couldn't put it together."

Broyles admitted Sunday that it was time for the Razorbacks to "take stock" of their offense.

A&M was able to play man-to-man coverage on Arkansas' receivers with deep help from the two safeties because the Razorbacks have not had an option attack.

"We have been handicapped because we've been unable to establish any kind of an option play, which ties the secondary down," Broyles said. "In the man coverage, we would get away from them instantly but if the ball wasn't there immediately they had time to catch up. The two cornerbacks were playing man on the wide receivers and they didn't have to worry deep because of the safeties, and you can't use that kind of defense when you can run the option.

"With our type of offense, it's hard to guess right every time," Broyles said. "We've got to make some changes in that. We probably made a mistake at the end of the first ball game because Joe wasn't a threat and (Marsh) White was out."

After the opening loss to Southern Cal, Arkansas chose to abandon its option attack.

Against A&M, junior tailback Dickey Morton once again carried the Arkansas running attack, netting 88 yards on 19 carries. White played some in the second half and finished with 40 yards on eight carries.

"Dickey Morton is a real complete football player," Broyles said. "If Marsh can keep them honest up the middle, everything is going to be improved. With Marsh in the game, we're going to run more options and this is going to help us."

The Arkansas defense gave the offense two excellent opportunities, but both were wasted.

Louis Campbell intercepted on the Aggies' first possession and returned to the A&M 16 but a clipping penalty moved the ball back to the A&M 41. On third down, Ferguson was intercepted by Robert Murski.

Arkansas, trailing 3-0 midway through the second quarter, blew another opportunity when Mark Hollingsworth intercepted and returned it 27 yards to the Aggies' 29.

On first down, a guard went the wrong way and a running play gained nothing. On second play, an open receiver slipped down as the ball was thrown. A third down pass was deflected and a fourth-down field goal attempt from 46 yards was short.

"That was extremely disappointing," Broyles said. "If we take those two pass interceptions in we win going away. When you get inside the 30, you have to be man enough to take it on in."

A&M's lone touchdown came after Larry Ellis picked off a pass aimed deep down the middle to tight end Steve Hedgepeth. Ellis returned 26 yards to the Arkansas 26 and the Aggies scored from there in eight plays.

Baylor put a 42-9 lump on Texas Christian Saturday, the first time a Bear team had beaten the Horned Frogs in Fort Worth since 1954.

Teaff said his team "came up here not worrying about jinxes or homecoming. They came here with one thing in mind...and did it. It was a super, super job. I have been around a lot of football teams and I coached a lot of great players, but this bunch is a group of winners. THEY'VE GOT IT!"

TCU Coach Billy Tohill agreed, saying "They whipped us every way you can whip a football team."

The Horned Frog's Ronnie Peoples summed up the defeat: "I'd like to go bury my head."

Meanwhile, Texas Tech stayed in the race to the Cotton Bowl with a shaky 10-6 victory over Rice, Houston tripped Florida State 31-27, and Texas A&M stunned Arkansas 10-7.

Texas is 4-0 and Tech is 3-1 followed by Baylor at 2-1. Tech has been beaten by Texas while the Bears fell to pre-season favorite Arkansas which is 2-2.

The victory over Arkansas was the first SWC win for Aggie Coach Emory Ballard who said "I'm a happy son-of-a-gun. I'm proud for the players because they never quit and kept coming back week after week."

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said "We weren't able to crack their defensive game play. It was (quarterback) Joe Ferguson's fault."

A&M picked off six Ferguson passes.

Ark. State rallies for win

MONROE, La. (AP) — Quarterback Greg Hill rallied Arkansas State University for two final-quarter touchdowns here Saturday to take a 14-13 victory from Northeast Louisiana.

Northeast Louisiana scored the first three times it got its hands on the ball and led 13-0 going into the fourth period.

Two drives, one for 42 yards after a fumble recovery and the other for 55 yards, produced the Arkansas State touchdowns. Richard Thomas took a pitchout from Hill and went over from five yards out. Then Hill sneaked over from one yard out for the second.

Joe Duren kicked the extra point that won it for the Indians who are now 3-4 for the year.

The loss spoiled an otherwise great night for Northeast half-back Jimmy Edwards.

Edwards ran 35 times for 173 yards and set three school records.

His 35 carries set one record, and he now has season totals of 234 rushes for 1,145 yards, both breaking records set by Joe Profit in 1969.

Edwards scored on a 36-yard run in the third quarter, but the play was called back on a clipping penalty.

Northeast scored in the first period on a 38-yard pass by Don Smith to Rubin Jones.

AIC scores

Ouachita broke the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference football race wide open Saturday by upsetting league-leading Arkansas Tech, 27-7.

The Tech loss improved the AIC title chances of Harding and Southern State. Tech is now 4-1 in the conference, while the other two schools are 3-1.

Although generally written off when Tech beat them two weeks ago, John Brock's Bison also gave the conference race a new look Saturday by whipping the Muleriders, 14-9.

Harding has the best overall record of any conference member 7-1.

In other AIC action Saturday, Arkansas-Monticello fell to Henderson 3-0 and State College of Arkansas bowed to Mississippi College, 25-14.

Quarterback Mike Carroll's three touchdown passes ruined Tech's quest for its fifth conference victory.

Carroll connected on pass plays of seven yards to Tom Fendley 43 yards to Danny Winston and six yards to David Dumond.

SWC championship road leads to Waco Saturday

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
OK, all you folks who picked Texas and Baylor in a showdown for the Southwest Conference football title can say "I told you so."

Hello? Anyone there?
And what about Arkansas having to fight for its life to finish in the first division. Did you have that one? Uh, huh.

The SWC football championship road leads to Waco, Tex., Nov. 11. The winner clearly steps to the head of the class as the probable host for the New Year's Date in the Cotton Bowl.

For Texas to be in a title battle is nothing unusual. After all, the Longhorns are looking for their fifth consecutive league crown.

But Baylor?
Coach Grant Teaff indeed has worked wonders in his freshman year at the Bear helm.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal was holding forth after his Longhorns had thumped Southern Methodist 17-9 Saturday and someone asked if he had anticipated in August a showdown with the Bears.

"I can't say that I thought it would come to this...but I can't say it's a total surprise," said Royal, who has been insisting all along that it would be a whacky, whacky world in the league this year.

"It's not the same old Baylor team," Royal said. "They've had an infusion of junior college players...they're not without talent. They've just got some good football players."

Asked if he remembered the trip to Waco two years ago when the Bears scared the undefeated Longhorns before losing 21-14, Royal said: "Sure, I do and I'd settle for that right now."

Baylor put a 42-9 lump on Texas Christian Saturday, the first time a Bear team had beaten the Horned Frogs in Fort Worth since 1954.

Teaff said his team "came up here not worrying about jinxes or homecoming. They came here with one thing in mind...and did it. It was a super, super job. I have been around a lot of football teams and I coached a lot of great players, but this bunch is a group of winners. THEY'VE GOT IT!"

TCU Coach Billy Tohill agreed, saying "They whipped us every way you can whip a football team."

The Horned Frog's Ronnie Peoples summed up the defeat: "I'd like to go bury my head."

Meanwhile, Texas Tech stayed in the race to the Cotton Bowl with a shaky 10-6 victory over Rice, Houston tripped Florida State 31-27, and Texas A&M stunned Arkansas 10-7.

Texas is 4-0 and Tech is 3-1 followed by Baylor at 2-1. Tech has been beaten by Texas while the Bears fell to pre-season favorite Arkansas which is 2-2.

The victory over Arkansas was the first SWC win for Aggie Coach Emory Ballard who said "I'm a happy son-of-a-gun. I'm proud for the players because they never quit and kept coming back week after week."

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said "We weren't able to crack their defensive game play. It was (quarterback) Joe Ferguson's fault."

"I can't say that I thought it would come to this..."

Texas Coach Darrell Royal, Room 2001, Villa Capri, Austin, Tex., 6:30 p.m. Nov. 4.

The Longhorn coach joined 99.9 per cent of Southwest Conference football fans on his thoughts of meeting the Baylor Bears at Waco Saturday in a shootout for perhaps the host spot in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

But it came to pass Saturday in another dust-stirring day that saw the Longhorns remain unbeaten in SWC play with a hard-earned 17-9 victory over Southern Methodist; Baylor crush Texas Christian 42-9; Texas Tech nick Rice 10-6 and Texas A&M sink Arkansas 10-7.

LSU Tigers win in final seconds

By HERSCHEL NIBBENSON,
Associated Press Sports Writer

Quick as the wink he had just given Coach Charlie McClendon, Louisiana State's Bert Jones went from goat to hero.

Sixth-ranked LSU trailed Mississippi 16-10 Saturday night when Ole Miss was called for pass interference at its own 10-yard line with four seconds left to play.

Jones quickly threw an incomplete pass to stop the clock since the Tigers had used up all their timeouts. Now, only one second remained but the Tigers got a big break when Mississippi unaccountably called time out.

Given a reprieve, Jones trotted to the sidelines, where McClendon intoned these pressure-packed words: "Son," he said, "this is it." Jones merely winked, went back to work and dived a pass to Brad Davis in the end zone as the final horn sounded.

Still, the suspense wasn't over.

"I lost the ball in the lights," said Davis.

"I caught the ball with one hand, then the other and then my head, juggling it around a lot before I fell. I didn't know I had it made until I heard the stands explode." Rusty Jackson then kicked the extra point that gave LSU a 17-16 triumph and set up next weekend's Southeastern Conference showdown against equally unbeaten Alabama.

Jones marched the Tigers 80 yards in 13 plays in the final three minutes to remove the goat horns. Underdog Mississippi took a 3-0 lead in the first period following a Jones fumble and turned an interception into another field goal in the final quarter for a 16-10 spread.

LSU's last-second victory made it a clean sweep for the Top Ten college football teams in The Associated Press ratings.

Top-ranked Southern California trimmed Washington State 44-3, runner-up Alabama walked Mississippi State 58-14 and third-ranked Nebraska whipped No. 15 Colorado 33-10.

Elsewhere, it wasn't quite that easy.

Fourth-ranked Michigan turned two Indiana fumbles and a bad center snap into touchdowns in a 21-7 triumph and No. 5 Ohio State had to come from behind to defeat lowly Minnesota 27-19 as Harold Hansen powered for 131 yards and his 14th and 15th touchdowns of the season.

Oklahoma, rated seventh, continued toward another

Thanksgiving Day Big Eight shootout with Nebraska by downing No. 14 Iowa State 20-6.

UCLA, No. 8, needed Mark Harmon's 11-yard run with 3:52 left to defeat Stanford 28-23; Roosevelt Leaks ripped off 175 yards and powered ninth-ranked Texas past Southern Methodist 17-9 and No. 10 Penn State pulled away from a 10-all halftime tie and trounced Maryland 46-16.

Washington State battled Southern Cal to a 3-3 first-period standoff but three touchdowns by Anthony Davis, who gained 195 yards, helped the Trojans break it open.

Despite their struggles, Michigan and Ohio State remained tied for the Big Ten lead. Purdue fell out of a three-way deadlock when the Boilermakers lost to Michigan State 22-12 one day after State's Duffy Daugherty announced this would be his last season.

In the Second Ten, No. 11 Auburn piled up a 26-point lead and then held off Florida 26-20; Gary Diminick's 64-yard dash with the opening kickoff triggered No. 12 Notre Dame to a 35-0 halftime lead and a 42-23 win over Navy; No. 13 Tennessee blanked Georgia 14-0 on two scoring passes by Conderge Holloway; No. 16 Missouri made it three in a row for the first time since 1969 by downing Kansas State 31-14; No. 17 Louisville left the unbeaten ranks, losing to Tulsa 28-26; No. 18 Texas Tech shaded Rice 10-6; No. 19 Air Force lost six interceptions and bowed to service rival Army 17-14 on Bob Hines' last-quarter 49-yard run and Texas A&M stole six passes from Arkansas hotshot Joe Ferguson and upset the No. 20 Razorbacks 10-7.

76ers zero in on NBA record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia 76ers are literally zeroing in on a National Basketball Association record.

After Sunday night's 131-113 loss to the Milwaukee Bucks, the hapless and helpless 76ers are two games away from tying the NBA record for most losses at the start of a season.

Their latest escapade was their 13th loss without a victory this year and put them in a choice position to catch the negative record of 15 shared by Denver and Cleveland.

Denver lost 15 at the start of the season when it had an NBA franchise in 1949 and the Cavaliers dropped that many in 1970, their first year.

The longest losing streak is 17—shared by the San Francisco team of 1964 and the old San Diego franchise of 1968.

Milwaukee reserve forward

Gary Gregor was mostly responsible for Philadelphia's latest collapse, scoring 21 points and hauling in 15 rebounds. Gregor entered the game in the opening quarter and helped the Bucks wipe out an early 12-point Philadelphia lead.

In the other NBA games Sunday night, the Los Angeles Lakers trimmed the Seattle SuperSonics 134-115 and the Phoenix Suns nipped Cleveland 107-106.

Only two games were played in the American Basketball Association as the San Diego Conquistadors ran away from the Virginia Squires 132-121 and the Denver Rockets routed the New York Nets 137-107.

Jerry West and Wilt Chamberlain combined for 59 points to lead Los Angeles over Seattle. West hit on 14 of 23 shots and finished with a game-high 35 points while Chamberlain raced up 16 of his 24 points in the second half, when the Lakers pulled away.

Los Angeles led by only 77-77 with 4:46 to play when West and Chamberlain took over. Chamberlain stuffed three shots to run the Laker lead to 97-85 and they never lost it.

Neal Walk hit two free throws with only two seconds left to help Phoenix nip Cleveland. The lead changed hands six times in the final minutes of the fourth quarter before Walk cashed in the game-winning shots.

Stew Johnson got 15 of his 30 points in the third quarter as San Diego exploded for 40 points in that period and rode to victory over Virginia. Julius Erving scored a game-high 42 points for the Squires.

Denver squandered most of an 18-point lead in less than three minutes in the second half, then ripped off an 18-3 spurt in the fourth period to break the game open. Ralph Simpson had 30 points for the winners while Bill Melchionni paced the Nets with 24.

Roman Gabriel:

Soul Searching

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
"From last Sunday night until I reported to practice on Tuesday was a whole week of soul-searching and thinking for me," Los Angeles quarterback Roman Gabriel said. "Then, after the reasoning sessions with myself, I came to the conclusion I had to use my head."

Gabriel, who had experienced one of his worst days as a National Football League quarterback a week ago by throwing four intercepted passes in a 45-17 loss to Oakland, used his head along with his sore arm Sunday against Atlanta in their National Conference West showdown.

It paid off handsomely. Gabriel threw only 11 passes and completed eight of them for 93 yards. And he used his head by sticking to a relentless ground game spearheaded by Willie Elison and Jim Bertelsen, who combined for 215 yards and a touchdown apiece to carry the Rams to a 20-7 victory that widened their division lead over the Falcons to 1 1/2 games.

There were two American Conference showdowns, too.

In the Central Division, Pittsburgh broke out of a first-place deadlock with Cincinnati by clobbering the Bengals 40-17 and, in the West, Kansas City vaulted over Oakland and into a one-game lead by taming the Raiders 27-14.

In Sunday's other games, undefeated Miami made it eight in a row this year with a 30-16 whipping of Buffalo, Washington belted the New York Jets 35-17, Dallas held off San Diego 34-28, the New York Giants defeated Denver 29-17, Green Bay beat San Francisco 34-24, Minnesota mauled New Orleans 37-6, Detroit shut out Chicago 14-0, Cleveland humbled Houston 20-0 and Philadelphia and St. Louis struggled to a 6-6 tie.

On Monday night's nationally televised game, the Baltimore

Colts play the Patriots in New England.

Steelers Rookie Franco Harris led a 230-yard Pittsburgh ground assault with 101 yards of his own, including a two-yard touchdown spurt, while Terry Bradshaw completed half of his 20 passes for 190 yards.

Len Dawson also threw for three touchdowns for Kansas City while the Chiefs limited Oakland's running game to 73 yards, prompting Chiefs Coach Hank Stram to call it "the best game of the year. Dawson played a great game. We were fired up. This was a most significant win."

Coach Don Shula of the Dolphins insisted he's not considering the possibility of an unbeaten season. "I'm thinking only about New England," he said of Miami's next foe.

Against the Bills this time, Mercury Morris scampered for 106 yards and a pair of touchdowns, Earl Morrall hit Marv Fleming with a seven-yard scoring pass and Garo Yepremian booted three field goals.

Another three-touchdown quarterback was Washington's Billy Kilmer who connected on scoring passes of 45 yards to Roy Jefferson, 70 yards to Charley Taylor and 80 yards.

320 N. Washington, Hope, Arkansas 71801 Phone—777-5154
Hempstead County

November 2, 1972

Dear Hempstead County Voters:

During the past four months since I announced my candidacy for the office of State Representative, District 20, for Hempstead County, I have attempted to see each one of you to ask for your support. In some instances I have missed you, and I want to take this opportunity to tell you why I will be a good representative for all the people in Hempstead County.

There is no substitute for experience, and through the years I have gained invaluable knowledge of every day problems and of solutions to these problems.

1. Background: I grew up in a family that has great respect for our country, its people and its institutions. I gained much experience from my father, who was a lawyer and my mother, who served two terms as mayor; but they were parents who always put their family first.

2. Education: I am a college graduate with experience as a secondary and elementary teacher; but I'm also a parent and know what is involved in educating a child: namely, books, clothes, tuition, etc. My two daughters have graduated from college and my twin sons are sophomores at Hendrix College. I am interested in education both professionally and as a parent.

3. Agriculture: Living on a farm for 11 years as a farmer's wife gave me an insight to this vocation that I could not have had otherwise. Therefore, I will be able to relate to the needs of the farmers of our area.

4. Business: Since the loss of my husband in 1969, I have had to manage our business affairs and I was able to do this through the knowledge I gained from our association.

5. Government: As I told you in my announcement, I believe that government should be designed to serve the people, not to burden them; therefore, I do not support a raise in taxes, instead believing our government should operate within its income.

6. Senior Citizens: I know the problems of our elderly, having a father who was bedridden for 2 1/2 years before his death and a mother who had to be in a rest home before her death; and by knowing many other relatives and friends who have had these similar problems. I have devoted many volunteer hours to our senior citizens who are so often forgotten.

7. Veterans: I was married to a soldier and veteran of World War II for 24-plus years and my two brothers are veterans of the same war. I have friends who are veterans of World War II and the Korean War and whose children have participated in the Vietnam War, so the needs of veterans, their families and survivors are very real to me.

8. Women: As a widow, I am particularly sensitive to the needs of the many women who are left alone to cope with their lives. I am interested in the working woman, and feel she should be adequately rewarded for the work she does.

9. Youth: Particularly dear to me are our youth, the future of our county, state, and country. Through the years I have worked many volunteer hours with preschool children, retarded children, slow learners, Cub Scouts, Brownie Scouts, Girl Scouts, and have taught young people in Sunday School. I feel that we must be constructive and concentrate on finding answers for our youth, rather than emphasizing juvenile delinquency and downgrading our youth.

I earnestly solicit your vote and support on November 7th, and when elected, I promise to fulfill all my obligations in working as your fulltime state representative

Sincerely,

Jerri Pruden

McGovern campaign 'cresting'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sen. Thomas Eagleton said Sunday that George McGovern's campaign for the presidency "is on the move. It's cresting, and the crest date is Nov. 7."

Eagleton once again found himself sharing the platform with the man who dropped him as a running mate. And once again Eagleton asked fellow Democrats to vote the straight ticket.

Stuart Symington, the state's senior senator, also plugged for McGovern as the Democrats staged their last big event in the state campaign.

Recalling the 1948 victory by underdog Harry Truman, Symington said: "There were not as many people confident that Mr. Truman was going to win as there are today confident George McGovern is going to win."

The affair was a breakfast speech by McGovern to party and labor leaders. Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said he was dismayed that Missourians didn't seem to care about "things which are morally dishonest and corrupt" in the Nixon administration.

"I do care about it," the governor said. "I have already cast my absentee ballot. McGovern is leading one to nothing in Missouri."

Poisoning threat is unconfirmed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Authorities refuse to confirm or deny a report by the Sacramento Union that someone has threatened to kill innocent people in Sacramento County if President Nixon is re-elected Tuesday.

The Union quoted on Sunday from a note which described Nixon as "the killer" responsible for "the thousands of innocent people killed in Vietnam."

The Union said the note was enclosed in nine packets of food containing deadly doses of cyanide which were mailed to area residents. The story said the writer claimed to have mailed 75 such packets and threatened to place 194 more on the shelves of area food markets if Nixon wins.

William Miller, a spokesman for the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department, refused to confirm or deny the story but acknowledged that the poisoning of the food packets "is related to the Vietnam situation and the killing in Vietnam."

Miller said five of the packets were reported to authorities by residents on Friday, three more on Saturday and a ninth on Sunday.

James said the immunity provides that the Wethers cannot be charged as accessories in the killings of Thomas "Big Tom" Skull, 24, and Charles Baker, 30, two Georgia cyclists whose bodies were exhumed last Monday. The cause of death of a third victim, a woman, has not been determined.

Hell's Angels answering questions

Mendocino County Dist. Atty. Duncan James and public defender Joseph D. Allen said Sunday.

James said the immunity provides that the Wethers cannot be charged as accessories in the killings of Thomas "Big Tom" Skull, 24, and Charles Baker, 30, two Georgia cyclists whose bodies were exhumed last Monday. The cause of death of a third victim, a woman, has not been determined.

The immunity also extends to the drug charges placed against the Wethers after the bodies were found, Allen said. James said the only major exception to an irrevocable immunity agreement is if the Wethers are involved as principal suspects in homicides, "but there is no evidence they are."

The lawyer said the bodies ended up on the Wethers property because of payment of a "debt" he said Wethers owed the club.

Allen said Wethers shot and wounded William Mark "Zorro" Mitten of the Alameda Hell's Angels several years ago while under the influence of a drug.

Allen added: "It came within the gang (Wethers) responsibility to make this up to" Mitten by paying his hospital bills and other expenses, and "part of paying these debts caused the bodies to come" to the Wethers ranch.

Mitten and three other Angels have been arraigned.

Lansky out of sight

TEL AVIV (AP) — Underworld financial wizard Meyer Lansky dropped out of sight in Western Europe early today after slipping quietly out of Israel.

An official of the Interior Ministry said Lansky took a Swissair jetliner to Geneva and got off there. But Swiss police sources said he had been barred from Switzerland more than a year ago, spent only a shortly time in the country Sunday night and then left again.

"We do not know his final destination," a spokesman for the Swiss government said.

The Public Is Protected

A Railroad Surcharge Must Be Approved By Interstate Commerce Commission and the Arkansas Transportation Commission

DON'T BE BLACKMAILED by threats of a surcharge. You are protected from this threat by public hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Arkansas Transportation Commission.

Arkansas' Full Crew Safety Laws have never caused Arkansas' freight rates to be out of line with those in other states. This has been true for over 60 years.

Railroad freight rate increases went into effect this month—across the nation. It is unlikely that Arkansas will have another increase because you vote to keep your Full Crew Safety Laws.

Every railroad operating in Arkansas reports a greater profit ratio in Arkansas, with a Full Crew Safety Law, than all other states where they do business. The efficiencies of the Full Crew make this possible.

Germanys resume negotiations

BERLIN (AP) — East and West German negotiators met in East Berlin today to begin the final phase of talks on a treaty to bring about normal relations between their two governments.

Egon Bahr, the West German state secretary, told the cabinet Sunday this session could be his final meeting with Michael Kohl, the East German state secretary, before they finalize a treaty.

The treaty of diplomatic recognition would pave the way for both states to apply for U.N. membership in addition to mutual diplomatic recognition.

Chancellor Willy Brandt would like to announce an agreement with East Germany before the West German general election Nov. 19, figuring it would give his Social Democratic party a needed boost.

East German recognition of West Berlin and of West Germany's claim to represent it were the major problems to be settled. East Germany has maintained Berlin is an independent city-state and rejected Bonn's claims on it.

Unofficial sources said Bahr and Kohl apparently were going to skirt the issue by not mentioning it directly in the treaty.

Informed sources said Germany's World War II conquerors—the United States,

Britain, France and the Soviet Union—agreed Sunday that their occupation rights and responsibilities in the divided city would continue despite political developments between the two German regimes.

A communique issued at the end of their two weeks of talks said only: "The ambassadors successfully concluded their exchange of views and have agreed to report to their governments on the result of their discussions."

The Western powers feared that East Germany after admission to the United Nations might assert jurisdiction over Berlin.

Oswald: "Here is a rubber bridge hand that got all four players mad. South took one look at dummy and asked why his partner couldn't have rebid to three clubs instead of giving an immediate raise with three small trumps. North replied to the effect that he had a bad hand and wanted to make a minimum rebid and that if South didn't like the grand slam contract, no one had made him bid it."

Jim: "I see why East and West got mad. Undoubtedly South made the grand slam by taking the best percentage play."

Oswald: "Exactly. He won the diamond lead, entered dummy with the queen of clubs, led the nine of trumps and let it ride after East played low. When both opponents followed to the second trump lead there were no further problems. He made the slam while the opponents glowered and complained about his being able to fall in a river and come up with a fish in his mouth."

Jim: "I can't blame them. The less declarer says the better. Of course, he did take the best line of play, but even with that line his chance for success was less than 25 per cent but the 25 per cent chance had materialized."

Forty-nine out of fifty states can't be wrong.

Arkansas is the only state in the nation with laws which impede railroad employees' bargaining with management. All of the other 49 states either never had Train Crew Laws or have done away with them. We are last.

Technological advancements have insured a far greater degree of increasing safety than any number of extra crewmen ever could.

And when Act 1 is passed, job and earnings protection for operating railroad employees, included in the Act, will become state law. If the railroads violate these laws, they can be punished in the courts of the State of Arkansas.

Your money is an issue. You've probably heard about the surcharge by now—the $10 extra charge on all railroad cars loaded or unloaded in Arkansas. If this surcharge is imposed—and it will be if Act 1 isn't passed—the only loser will be Arkansas.

49 out of 50 states can't be wrong. Vote for Act 1.

McGovern ends swing in South

Crackdown on IRA planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern made his last presidential campaign stop in the South here Saturday night and predicted "a great Democratic victory in the election."

The South Dakota senator spoke to a cheering airport crowd estimated up to 6,000. He called on Americans to begin "a new quest in Tuesday's elections" to revitalize the soul and moral foundation of this nation.

"I believe that when the votes are counted, they will demonstrate once again that the American people will not be dictated to by public opinion polls," the senator said.

Newsmen following the Democratic nominee described the Little Rock crowd as the most enthusiastic to greet the senator on a campaign day that began in Chicago and included stops in Texas before the Arkansas visit.

The crowd roared repeatedly at his jibes at the Nixon administration.

McGovern was about an hour late. He was scheduled to arrive at 6 p.m.

While waiting, the crowd listened to speeches from some of the state's leading Democratic figures, including Rep. David Pryor and Gov. Dale Bumpers.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright introduced McGovern, and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills also spoke, describing McGovern as "honest, courageous...with a desire to get the American people back together again."

One notable Democrat who was absent from the rally was Sen. John L. McClellan.

At the outset of his speech, McGovern said that he hoped Mills would accept his offer to be secretary of the treasury in a McGovern administration.

McGovern also said that his administration would need "brilliant and courageous men" such as Pryor, who was defeated in the Democratic primary this year in his bid to unseat McClellan.

McGovern told the crowd that the choice was clear in Tuesday's election—an administration that pursues war policies or one that will seek peace.

He said that President Nixon in the 1968 campaign had promised a plan for peace in Vietnam and that in the closing days of this campaign he holds out hope of a peace agreement.

"I can't believe that the American people who were tricked into believing four years ago that he had a plan for peace are going to buy that again in 1971," McGovern said.

"After having watched Nixon and Agnew, it is very hard for me to see a consistent line of principle running from Thomas Jefferson to Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew," McGovern said.

The candidate said a "crisis of the spirit is upon this land," because "our leadership has lost its way." He said political principle had been replaced by political expediency and political espionage on a scale never seen before.

He said he was concerned about a "steady erosion" of personal liberty under the Nixon administration.

McGovern said that if "agents" were not afraid to try to bug the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee, a reference to the Watergate break-in at Washington, "they won't hesitate to wiretap your store, your bank, your law office..."

He said he was disappointed that Nixon had refused to "defend his record in a face-to-face debate," recalling that the President he said in 1960 that a candidate for president should test himself in a face-to-face confrontation with his opponent.

Accompanying McGovern was his wife, Eleanor, and their two daughters, son-in-law and grandson Matthew. Speaking after her husband, Mrs. McGovern said with a smile that their grandson had campaigned in more states, conducted more news conferences and made more speeches than had the President.

McGovern said that the war had increased inflationary pressure and the federal deficit and had diverted resources from desperate domestic needs.

"Mr. Nixon would rather spend money for bombs than to build up the state of Arkansas," McGovern said, observing that he had been told that the city of Gonnell had been seeking for four years to obtain federal funds for sewage improvements.

DUBLIN (AP) — The Irish government plans a new law this month to crack down on leaders of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, justice minister Desmond O'Malley says.

His statement was quickly followed by the arrest Sunday of Maire Drumm, a leading figure in Sinn Fein, the political front for the IRA's Provisional Wing.

O'Malley told a radio interviewer that Sean MacStiofain, the IRA's chief of staff, had not been arrested because no conviction could be obtained against him under present law.

He said he had been working four to five months on the planned new law, but had run into drafting difficulties.

Mrs. Drumm, 32, was arrested under a law against inciting people to procure arms.

The charge arose from a speech she made in the republic on St. Patrick's day—this year.

Belfast was a relatively quiet Sunday night, but troops claimed they hit a gunman who fired on an observation post in the Ardoyne district, an IRA stronghold.

A civilian was wounded by gunmen in the Falls Road area. Police said they did not know whether he was a victim of the IRA or of the various Protestant armed groups.

The militant Protestant Ulster Defense Association said it bombed a mineral water factory at Muff, in the Irish Republic, in retaliation for IRA bombings in Northern Ireland.

Harrassment charge made

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The director of the North Pulaski County campaign for the Committee for the Re-election of the President said Sunday she was "harrassed" by Democrats Saturday.

Mrs. Virginia Penny of Sherwood said she suffered a sprained thumb when a Nixon sign was jerked from her hand at the rally Saturday night for George S. McGovern, the Democratic nominee for president.

She said about 200 Republicans attended the rally to "listen and observe." She said they had four Nixon signs and they "were ripped to shreds."

Earlier Saturday, she said she was harrassed by Herbert R. Bingham of North Little Rock, a member of the Pulaski County Democratic Committee.

Eight die on highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four persons were killed Sunday in a two-car collision at Keo (Lonoke County), bringing the total to eight killed on Arkansas highways during the weekend.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended Sunday midnight.

The four killed were identified as Steve Doyle, 15, of Little Rock, driver of one of the cars; Michael Wargo, 17, of Little Rock, passenger in the Doyle car; Sarah E. Davidson, 64, of Little Rock, driver of the other car; Florence Templeton, 76, of Little Rock, passenger in the Davidson car.

'For' vote is urged

Crit Stuart Jr., and Harold S. Eakley, both of Hope, Hempstead County co-chairmen of the Shippers' Committee for Repeal of Train Crew Laws urged the citizens of Hempstead County today to vote for Act 1 on Tuesday's General Election.

Stuart said that passage of Act 1 would not only repeal the 1907 Train Crew Laws, but would also help the economy of Hempstead County by cancelling the railroads' plans to add a special shipping charge to help pay for the unnecessary costs created by the Train Crew Laws.

"There's really no good reason why anyone should oppose Act 1. Present railroad crewmen will be protected by state law, the waste of having six men on trains that are normally crewed by four in other states will be halted and the extra freight charges will not be added to Arkansas' cost of living if Act 1 passes," Stuart said. "A vote for Act 1 is a vote for fair play for the train crewmen, the railroads and all consumers."

In urging citizens to vote for Act 1, Eakley said that failure to pass the act could possibly result in increased shipping charges that would total about $62,940 each year in Hempstead County alone. "A special surcharge of $10 on every freight car loaded or unloaded in Arkansas will probably go into effect if Act 1 isn't passed to help pay for the waste of the Train Crew Laws. Last year about 6,294 cars were unloaded or loaded in Hempstead County. That's how the possible increase in our county was figured at $62,940," Eakley said.

Is 16-year-old humpbacked?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am 16 years old and very physically fit. About two years ago someone made a remark about me being "humpbacked." The idea was totally new to me. Later I was told by others also that I was humpbacked. I was also told to hold up my shoulders and I soon discovered that I was in fact humpbacked. The hump had developed I think from the shoulders slumping. It is situated a little below my shoulder blade. It isn't noticeable when I wear a shirt, but without a shirt the hump is fairly obvious. It seems like, since I am young, the problem could be corrected with the right treatment. Is there anything I can do to straighten my back?

Dear Reader — It is difficult to say how much can be done without knowing how much of a deformity you really have. Your letter suggests to me that it is not a very marked deformity, if it can't be noticed when your shirt is on. As important as it is to you, I doubt very much that it makes a difference to anybody else. Sometimes people fix their attention on a minor defect of the body and exaggerate its importance.

Practically no one has a completely normal, symmetrical body. You may be surprised to know that almost everybody has at least a little shortening of one leg. There is a tendency for one half of the body to be slightly larger than the other half. Take a look at some of your friends' photographs that are taken face on and cover up the right half with a sheet of paper and look at the left side of the body. Now reverse the procedure and you will see that many people look entirely different on the right and left half of their body.

I wish you would see an orthopedic specialist and let him look at the amount of curvature you have and see if it is really something that you should concern yourself about or not.

As far as your rounded shoulders are concerned, this suggests poor posture habits. You could do quite a bit for this by becoming more conscious about holding your shoulders back. You could also take a series of exercises to strengthen the muscles between your shoulder blades. Since your letter suggests you are athletically inclined this would be a good program for you. You can use pulley weights in a gymnasium to weight your arms and then swing your arms backward or rotate them in a backward circle using the muscles between the shoulder blades.

Another exercise device is the tension or stretch springs that you can hold between your hands and stretch the springs out using the muscles between your shoulder blades. Most trapeze work, or any type of exercise like climbing ropes hand over hand are useful in developing the shoulder muscles. You do not need exercises that will develop the muscles over the front of the chest. They may already be too strong in comparison to your weaker muscles between the shoulder blades.

I am sure your physical education teacher would be glad to help you with a set of exercises that would help you along this line. But in the meantime ask your family doctor to direct you to an orthopedic specialist if you are really concerned about the possibility of a deformity in your back.

Last July, the United Transportation Union and the railroads agreed that train crewmen will be protected when Act 1 passes.

Job and paycheck security for train crewmen will become Arkansas law with Act 1's passage on November 7. The contracts signed by the United Transportation Union and the railroads will insure that protection even further with guarantees that no trainman will be required to move his residence to hold a job... nor will he have to work outside the territory in which he has seniority.

That kind of security no other railroaders have. In fact, very few Arkansans have. It'll take 10 years at least before all unnecessary crew assignments are phased out as men retire, are promoted or leave train service.

The guarantees of Act 1, plus the protection contracts, make your vote for Act 1 fair to trainmen, the railroads and Arkansas. Vote for fair play. Vote FOR Act 1.

When you vote FOR Act 1, you won't cost anyone his job.

Group attends conclave

Flying to Columbia, S.C., seven delegates from the Hope High School's Student Council took part in the 38th annual SASC conference from Oct. 24-28.

Leading four discussion groups and swap shops and taking part in some twenty-five others, they brought back with them many new ideas as to how to serve the community and fellow classmates.

Following the conference theme, "Involvement Through Personal Commitment", delegates from 14 southern states exchanged opinions, questions, and answers about how each council handled their problems and managed to get the students of each school involved in school and community projects.

Serving as vice-president school, for the whole conference comprised of 14 states, Hope High School delegate Mike Huckabee presided over all political rallies and was master-of-ceremonies at the annual banquet.

Elected as parliamentarian for the year 1972-73, Hope High School has now held two consecutive offices in the southern conference.

Third day of strike at CBS-TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Severed cables prevented the televising of the New York Jets-Washington Redskins football game Sunday, the third day of a strike by 1,200 cameramen, technicians and engineers against the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The strike also forced the cancellation of the network's "Face the Nation" interview program when Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and Democratic presidential candidate George M. Governor declined to cross picket lines.

Most other network programs went on as scheduled, with supervisors manning cameras and performing other technical duties normally handled by the striking members of the Radio and Television Broadcast Engineers, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The Jets-Redskins game was to have been carried by 90 stations outside the metropolitan area. Instead, the stations received the Chicago Bears-Detroit Lions game.

Supervisors discovered the severed cables about an hour before the kickoff. When they tried to bring other cables from trucks parked outside Shea Stadium a scuffle broke out with some of the 75 pickets.

Police arrested three persons they described as CBS technicians.

Boyleing it down

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Check your blood pressure regularly to be sure you don't have hypertension without knowing it. This disease is now one of the two leading causes of death in the United States, and it affects at least 1 of every 10 persons. If you get tired of keeping on your toes all day, how would you like to have to sleep that way? During the reign of Emperor Charlemagne, beds weren't horizontal but sloped from head to foot so sharply that sometimes the sleeper was standing semi-erect.

One of the problems teachers have is that in every group of 100 children there are from 5 to 10 who have a learning disability or are so hyperactive they require special treatment. Would you like to be guaranteed a place in heaven for only three days of work? Then go to Monastir, the beautiful Tunisian seaport. An ancient Moslem legend says that anyone who devotes three days to guarding the city's fortifications will, upon his death, immediately enter Paradise. It's not a bad bargain. An Arab Paradise is out of this world.

It was Mark Twain who observed, "The secret source of humor is not joy but sorrow; there is no humor in heaven."

Corona trial to resume

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — The Juan Corona murder trial resumes today in Solano County Superior Court with the defense continuing to probe the lack of fingerprint evidence in the case.

Defense lawyer Richard E. Hawk was to continue his cross-examination of Sutter County Deputy Sheriff Steve Sizelove, who took part in the May 26, 1971 pre-dawn search of Corona's office on the Jack Sullivan ranch.

Twenty-four of the 25 men Corona is charged with killing were found in graves on the Sullivan Ranch west of the Feather River in May and June 1971.

Sizelove has told the jury a loaded pistol and long knife were found in a locked desk at the office used by Corona, a farm-labor contractor.

Hawk began cross-examining Sizelove last week about why no attempt was made to find fingerprints on either the knife or the gun.

Indians preparing for showdown with Washington police

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of tense, tired Indian demonstrators prepared today for what they expected to be a battle with police to defend their illegal occupancy of the federal building they seized last Thursday.

The government indicated it, too, anticipated a confrontation to end the unprecedented four-day takeover of a government bureau.

The government said it would ask a court for permission to forcibly evict the Indians soon after 8 a.m., the deadline federal negotiators gave the Indians Sunday night for evacuating the Bureau of Indian Affairs building.

"We have now declared war on the United States of America—seek your stations," said Vernon Bellencourt, director of the American Indian Movement which has dominated the demonstration.

Another leader of the Trail of Broken Treaties caravan, Russell Means, predicted any fight between police and the well-armed Indians might resemble the massacre at Wounded Knee.

The Indians took over the building last Thursday as they came to the capital to protest their treatment at the hands of government.

In contrast to last Friday night and early Saturday, however, when the Indians prepared to confront police with an emotional fervor that verged on jubilation, the mood early today was sober and brooding.

While there was unanimity in voting to stay and fight rather than accept the government's last offer of housing at a nearby auditorium—this time with portable showers being added to the bargain—the Indians were hushed and stoic while Bellencourt explained the situation.

They shouted "no" to the offer but there was no weapon-waving or chanting, only a rush to start putting in place the barricades removed early last Saturday.

Estimates of the number of Indians in the building ranged from 400 to 2,000.

There had been an obvious stiffening of the Indians' position throughout the weekend as the demonstrators began to fear the government negotiators were interested in talking with them only about leaving the building, not about the other concerns such as dismissal of top BIA and Interior Department officials and restructuring of Indian programs.

"I believe that this building is the only card we have," Means said at one point Sunday.

Means said the Indians wouldn't leave until "each point in our demands has reached specific agreement."

"If it had not been election week," Means said, "I believe the cops would already have ripped us off." He said he has committed himself to fight to the death.

FBI.Eagleton?

Did they or didn't they?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark says that while in the Justice Department he read an FBI file on Thomas F. Eagleton that included details of the Missouri senator's treatment for exhaustion and depression.

The FBI denies it ever investigated Eagleton.

Eagleton was hospitalized in 1960, 1964 and 1966. After details of his illnesses became known last summer, Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern dropped Eagleton as his vice-presidential running-mate.

Clark said in a telephone interview that he learned from an FBI file of Eagleton's medical history in 1965. At the time, Clark said, he was deputy attorney general and Eagleton was one of several men under consideration for appointment as an assistant attorney general.

As a result, he said, an FBI check was conducted and it unearthed details of Eagleton's medical history. Eagleton was then lieutenant governor of Missouri.

When an FBI spokesman was asked if such a file existed and if it had been distributed during the past year, he replied: "We have never conducted an investigation of Sen. Eagleton."

Last month, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch reported that the McGovern campaign organization was investigating reports that the Committee for the Re-Election of the President had leaked the information about Eagleton's illnesses after Eagleton was nominated in July.

The Missouri senator said in an interview that he had no evidence that the leak came from Republican or governmental sources.

Eagleton said also that if he had been under consideration for a federal appointment in 1965, he never knew about it and had no knowledge of any FBI investigation.

Clark said that such background checks routinely cross the desk of the deputy attorney general. He said that he did not feel Eagleton's medical history was serious enough to disqualify him for a Justice Department appointment.

Clark said his recollection was that Eagleton was under consideration for appointment as head of the department's criminal division, a post that eventually went to Fred Vinson.

Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach, who was attorney general at the time, said he did not recall that Eagleton was ever considered for such an appointment. But, he said, he couldn't be certain.

Katzenbach said it would be normal procedure to run an FBI check on a prospective appointee before the individual was sounded out about the job.

He said it was possible that someone on the White House staff could have asked for such a check.

Minority groups have places on ballots in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Blacks and Mexican-Americans are on ballots for national office in many states this year in what one minority leader has called a consciousness for self-determination.

Three blacks and two Mexican-Americans are running for the Senate, 49 blacks and 11 Spanish-surnamed candidates for the House. One black is running for governor of Illinois, and one Mexican-American is in the Texas gubernatorial race.

"There's a consciousness this year ... that addresses itself to self-determination in the broadest sense," said Domingo Nick Reyes, executive director of the Mexican-American Anti-Demonstration Committee.

Of the three blacks running for the Senate, only one—incumbent Republican Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts—is expected to win.

The Congressional Black Caucus, composed of the black members of the House, is likely to gain additional strength as all 13 incumbents and two others—Yvonne Brathwaite Burke in Los Angeles and Barbara Jordan in Houston—are favored.

In Tennessee, J.O. Patterson Jr., Democratic state Senate whip and a Memphis city councilman, is seeking to unseat Republican Rep. Dan Kuykendall. Patterson defeated four whites in the primary.

Given a better-than-even chance of winning Georgia's 5th Congressional District seat is Andrew Young, executive vice president of The Southern Christian Leadership Conference. A former aide to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Young faces Republican state Rep. Rodney Cook in a district that includes most of Atlanta and several affluent and predominantly white suburbs north of the city.

Another black, Keith Jones, 26, is campaigning for the Georgia seat as a write-in candidate under the banner of the Socialist Workers party.

Two blacks running for the Senate are not given a chance of winning.

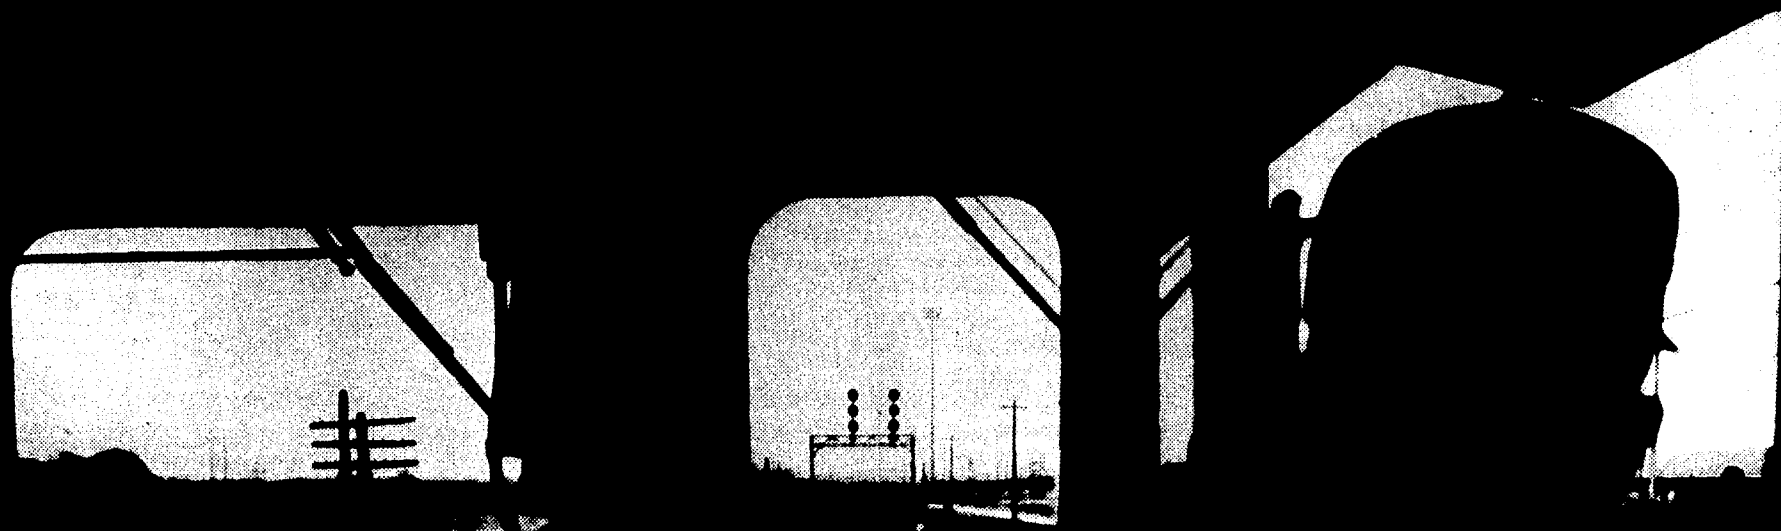

Climer makes contributions public record

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A list of campaign contributions that showed $6,685 in cash donations and an estimated $10,000 in donated services was released Saturday by Jerry Climer, the Republican nominee for secretary of state.

Most of Climer's donations have been under $100. There was one contribution of $250 listed that came from "Independence County supporters" and there was a $150 contribution from Odell Pollard of Searcy.

Climer also listed a $2,378 contribution from Mrs. Phyllis Kincannon, his campaign coordinator. He said that Mrs. Kincannon has returned all of her salary as campaign coordinator to the campaign fund.

The train crewmen's union in all 50 states agrees that only three or four men are required to run a train safely.

Vote FOR Act 1

All over the nation, crews of three or four men are running trains as safely as are six-man crews in Arkansas.

In Arkansas, unfair and unnecessary laws require a crew of six on freight trains. We're the only state in the country with such laws. Even the train crewmen's own union—the United Transportation Union—has accepted crews smaller than six men.

Safety standards will not be compromised by your vote for Act 1. Two men on the crew will still be in the front cab of the locomotive maintaining safe train operation. And consider this fact: during a period when train crew sizes have been reduced nationally, the safety record of American railroads has been improving in recent years.

Vote FOR Act 1.

When you vote FOR Act 1, you won't cost anyone his job.

Rev. Reisinger is Rotary Club guest

On Friday, November 3, four days prior to the General Election, the Rev. William Reisinger, vicar of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, spoke to the Hope Rotary Club at a meeting in the Town and Country.

"The separation of church and state, a principal upon which this country was founded, is all too often misunderstood. It does not mean the separation of religion and politics, for religious principles are the sound basis of good government."

The speaker, introduced by Rotarian Ed Aslin, spoke of politics in Old Testament times when a backwoods preacher named Jesus Christ proved to be a master politician when answering the "loaded" questions about the tribute to Caesar and to God, the greatest commandment, etc. In conclusion, he said that voters should keep in mind next Tuesday that who and what is voted for should be for the common good.

President Bob Roberts welcomed Jim Lester into the Hope Rotary Club. For the second week Joey Clark was a student guest from Hope High School, and he introduced a classmate, Donald Ogden. Two other visitors were Stuart Spragins of Little Rock and Gordon Tyer.

Chilean strike over

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chileans return to work today as the worst strike in the nation's history ends, at least temporarily.

"This is a moment of triumph for Chile's democratic labor movement. We paralyzed the country for 27 days," shouted Leon Vilarin, head of the National Labor Command as he urged striking workers to go back to their jobs in a radio speech Sunday night.

Marxist President Salvador Allende's government gave in to some—but not all—of the strikers' demands. The truce temporarily ended Chile's most serious internal crisis since Allende was elected two years ago.

All the strike leaders credited the new interior minister, Gen. Carlos Prats, for leading both sides to a solution. Allende named Prats, who had been the army commander, to the cabinet Thursday in a move to appease opponents of his leftist regime.

Government sources said Allende will leave No. 17 on a two-week trip to Cuba, Mexico and the United Nations in New York. This will leave Prats, the No. 2 man in the government, in charge and provide a further cooling off period.

Back in the middle

WASHINGTON (AP) — For months, Richard J. Johnson, a lifetime Democrat who was the subject of a study into the voting habits of a typical "middle American," had said he was leaning this year to Republican Richard Nixon.

Now, just a day before the election, he says he has moved into the undecided camp. The reason: the Nixon administration's pre-election bid for peace in Vietnam.

"I really don't know how I'm going to vote," Johnson said in a television interview. "I'll make that decision in the voting booth at about 7:30 a.m. Tuesday morning."

Johnson, a $15,000-a-year credit manager with a subsidiary of the National Steel Corp. who lives in Rolling Meadow, Ill., was chosen last January by the National Public Affairs Center for Television (NPACT) for the study. In September, he spent four days with Sen. George McGovern's campaign.

Until the Nixon administration disclosed its Vietnam peace drive 10 days ago, Johnson said, "I was going to vote for President Nixon." Then, he began to lean toward McGovern, feeling that "if it could have been done now, it could have been done two years ago."

"As of right now, I really don't know what to tell you," he added.

Johnson, who has four children and whose wife works parttime, said, "I think there are lots of people like me. There are more people than a lot of people realize who are really undecided It's an election of two people that people aren't too interested about and they have to vote for one."

He said he thinks that, in that case, many might end up voting for the party they had supported in the past.

The truth about Act 1

Union spokesman and campaign manager, Clovis Bryant, admits that train crew members' jobs and salaries will be protected when Act 1 is approved. Bryant held a news conference in Little Rock on September 25, 1972, and conceded that the agreement between the United Transportation Union and the railroad companies would protect crewmen's jobs and salaries.

Personal fiance

By CARLTON SMITH

Of all sad words of tongue or pen, a couple of the saddest are "manpower glut."

They mean that you've invested a lot of time and money in education and training for a certain line of work, and suddenly you find nobody needs you, simply because there's a manpower glut—too many people with your qualifications, excellent though yours may be.

It doesn't have to happen. Before making any career decisions, every student (with the help of the family) would do well to look at the long-range forecasts on employment opportunities and manpower supply in the various job categories. Forecasting techniques have been refined to the point of considerable accuracy.

As an example, look at the case of the thousands of young men and women preparing themselves for teaching positions eight or 10 years ago.

Teachers, at that time, were in such demand that one with good credentials could almost write his own ticket. The "baby boom" of earlier years was flooding classrooms with ever-increasing numbers of students. Federal grants to education were plentiful. Teachers were, finally, being well paid.

But anyone looking at the forecast might have anticipated what was about to happen. Here were some of the ingredients going into the national pot:

• The number of college graduates more than doubled in the 1960-70 decade. Two-thirds of the increase came between 1965 and 1970.

• Professional and technical employment (meaning college grads) was increasing at twice the rate of the nation's total employment. Teachers accounted for more than a fourth of this increase.

• Professional - technical employment kept rising until 1970, when it hit a peak and then leveled off. Most of those empty job slots had now been filled.

• At about the same time, the population curve for those of school age hit its peak, and leveled off.

Predicting the outcome of all this was almost as easy as adding up a column of figures. By 1971 the demand for teachers hit a 30-year low. There were 200,000 available, and only 19,000 new jobs to fill.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics had predicted the situation, with some accuracy, as early as 1964.

The plog report

What Americans think

Disunity is dangerous, voters say

By Stanley C. Plog, Ph.D.

President, Behavior Science Corp. (BASICO), Los Angeles

© 1972 by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

On the eve of this important election, Americans feel that the nation is pulling itself apart.

Not only are we in danger of losing our position of world leadership but large segments of the population wonder whether we could unite even to fight a common enemy such as Russia or China, if that need ever arose.

Almost universally, our people believe that America can do anything it wants to do—if it really wants to do it. But most Americans fear we may not be able to preserve the basic strength of our nation for future generations.

These conclusions grow out of a series of recently completed studies by Behavior Science Corporation (BASICO) on the 1972 election—the candidates and the issues. The research approach was many-sided, using traditional polling methods plus in-depth psychological techniques.

A HEROINE DOG is miniature poodle Mimi as she cavorts with Peter Emerito, 6, in Danbury, Conn. She awakened all eight members of the Emerito family while fire was consuming the home. Up to then she had refused to go up or down the steep stairway, but the night of the fire she raced back and forth four times. Mimi is winner of the Ken-L ration gold medal as "America's Dog Hero of 1972."

Rail Accidents Increase As Crew Size Is Reduced

| Change from 1962-63 Experience | Average Increase in Train Accident— Road and Yard Collisions (Based on 1965-66 and 1966-67 Data) | |
|---|---|-------------------------|
| | (Based on 1965-66 Data) | (Based on 1966-67 Data) |
| a. Each 10% decrease in yard firemen | 10.5% increase | 10.9% increase |
| b. Each 10% decrease in road firemen | 4.7% increase | 6.3% increase |
| c. Each 1% decrease in support crew | .66% increase | .52% increase |
| d. Each 10% decrease in road firemen and 1% decrease in road support crew | 5.5% increase | 7.0% increase |

These results show that had the average railroad reduced its employment of yard firemen by 10 percent from its 1962-1963 level, and changed nothing else, it could have expected its total collisions (road and yard) to increase between 10.5 and 10.9 percent.

Although the results for road firemen do not indicate as great an effect on collisions, the indication that a railroad which reduced its employment of road firemen by 10 percent from its 1962-1963 level and changed nothing else, could expect an increase in collisions of 4.7 to 6.3 percent is substantial.

The Charles River Associates of Cambridge, Mass., prepared this study in July, 1970, to show the effect of the removal of the fireman on railroad accidents from 1962 to 1967.

VOTE AGAINST ACT 1

Paid for by thousands of Arkansas railroad working men who want to keep on working. — W. C. Bryant, Chairman.

THE BATTLE AGAINST THE TERRAIN is bad enough, even without meeting any enemies, these South Vietnamese soldiers find. They are 10 miles north of Saigon.

NEW YORK (AP) — The manner in which the government is promoting a planned sale of three million silver dollars from the defunct Carson City, Nev., mint soon may lead to a showdown with coin dealers and, perhaps, investment bankers.

Nobody's reaching for the guns as they used to in the 1890s when the dollars were minted. But tempers are flaring and some critics think the marshal, so to speak, should step in.

That would be William Casey, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, which is empowered to regulate investments and their promotion. The offender, the critics claim, is the General Services Administration.

The GSA, say both coin and stock dealers is using huckster tactics that, if used by a private promoter, would cause the SEC to issue a cease and desist order.

"What they're saying could never be put into a prospectus," said Milton Fisher, an investment banker.

In seeking to sell the uncirculated coins for a minimum of $30 each, the GSA has issued a flier bearing the headlines, "The Great Silver Sale," beneath which is a statement from President Nixon about these "most valued reminders."

In smaller type are such statements as: "Excellent for investments or gifts. They are sound investments."

Said Joel Coen, a coin dealer. "I ran a coin ad in the newspaper and used the word 'investment' and the SEC jumped all over me. They told me to cease and desist, and I did, of course."

Now, he said, "Lo and behold comes the government itself using the word." He and many other dealers are irritated, he said. "The government is not an investment adviser."

Some underwriters who decline to become involved by name scorn what they feel is an abundance of romance versus facts. "How would you like to have stock sold this way" said Fisher running his finger over certain phrases:

—Collector's item. "Who said so?" he questioned.

—Mined from the Comstock Lode. "Prove it."

—Excellent for investments or gifts. "They pay no interest or dividends. And you'd have to pay for insurance on them."

—The value of these coins is high and demand is great. "Who said the value is high? Who said demand is great?"

—Unique opportunity to own a rare collector's item. "How rare: they're trying to sell three million of them."

The government he said should be ruled by the same standards as anyone else trying to sell to the public.

JERUSALEM (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan will meet with Secretary of State William P. Rogers during a brief trip to the United States this month, government sources report. The sources said on Sunday that his trip will last several days, but the dates were not disclosed.

NEW YORK (AP) — American singer Diahann Carroll and British television entertainer David Frost are engaged and plan to marry in London at Easter time.

A spokesman for Frost said Sunday that full plans for the wedding have not been completed.

The marriage will be the first for the 32-year-old Frost and the second for Miss Carroll.

NEW YORK (AP) — Chairman James Needham of the New York Stock Exchange leaves for Moscow today for talks with officials of the Soviet Bank of Foreign Trade.

Needham said on Sunday the discussions will center on "how the securities industry might play a major role in the development of trade and commerce between the U.S. and the Soviet Union."

Needham will stop off in London en route to Moscow to attend the dedication of new facilities for the London Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK (AP) — Pop singers James Taylor and Carly Simon have been married.

Taylor told a post-midnight concert audience at Radio City Music Hall early Sunday that he and Miss Simon, both of whom are also songwriters, were wed in a civil ceremony in New York Friday night.

Taylor is 24 and Miss Simon, the daughter of a founder of the publishing firm of Simon and Schuster, is 27.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Doctors who removed a pancreatic cyst from actor Peter Lawford say he will remain in the UCLA Medical Center's intensive care section for several days.

Lawford was reported to be in fair condition Sunday after the four-hour operation.

A spokesman for the 49-year-old actor said surgeons were satisfied with the results of the operations.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Actor Jon Voight, campaigning here for George McGovern, says one of the high spots about working for the Democratic presidential nominee has been getting to know the movie stars.

"Getting to know stars like Dustin Hoffman, Warren Beatty and Jack Nicholson, with whom I would ordinarily compete in my profession, has been one of the great pleasures of campaigning for Sen. McGovern," Voight said.

Teacher of Year is named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Catherine J. Gill of Little Rock has been named the Arkansas Teacher of the Year for 1973, State Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said Saturday.

A first-grade teacher at Rightsell Elementary School in Little Rock, Mrs. Gill will represent Arkansas in the National Teacher of the Year competition sponsored by the Council of Chief State School Officers and Encyclopedia Britannica.

Mrs. Gill, who has taught at Rightsell for 17 years, received Music Education degree from Arkansas AM&N College and a Masters Degree in education from State College of Arkansas.

Billboards in the sky NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A Louisiana advertising firm is planning to spread "billboard advertising" to the skies with a single-engine Cessna and the world's largest neon sign. The Airborne Advertising Co. is planning a fleet of the planes carrying signs 12 feet high, 40 feet long, and 900 feet of neon tubing.

Friday's close. In Frankfurt it was up to 7,5265 marks from 7,5010, and in Paris the British money opened at 11.8465 commercial francs against 7.76125.

Heath reportedly hoped that by making compulsory controls temporary, the employees and the labor unions would resume negotiations. The talks broke down because the unions demanded that the government put a ceiling on prices but accept only voluntary wage restraints from labor.

Jamborees planned for Scouts

Scouts in this area will have an opportunity to attend one of two National Jamborees next summer.

One will be held at Farragut State Park in northern Idaho, and one will be held at Moraine State Park north of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Caddo Area Council is now taking reservations for both. Travel west will be by air and bus. Travel east by chartered bus. West dates are July 28 to Aug. 8 and east dates are July 30 to Aug. 11. Many things happen at a Jamboree—camping with 35,000 other Scouts, sports, fishing, swimming, canoeing, sailing, pig roasting, log rolling, water bronco riding, campfires, huge arena shows, merit badge demonstrations and trading patches.

Any Scout is eligible who is 11 years old or has completed the fifth grade.

Reservations fees of $25 are due now and a monthly payment plan has been arranged. For further information, contact Scoutmaster Olen Overturf or Tom Berry at 777-6658.

Heath freezes wages

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath clamped a 90-day freeze on wages, prices, rents in his conservative government's bid to curb Britain's runaway inflation.

He told a packed House of Commons the freeze will apply to wages, prices, rents and dividends subject to a "limited number of exceptions."

The prime minister said he will rush through Parliament a bill empowering the government to take action but the freeze will take effect immediately.

Reports that the government planned determined action against inflation were enough to send the pound up three-tenths of a cent in London at the opening, 1 1/2 pence in Frankfurt and over six cents in Paris.
